

Food Contact Regulatory Analyst Summary

Michelman is a global developer of water-based barrier and functional coatings for flexible film packaging, paperboard and corrugated cartons; and water-based surface modifiers, additives and polymers for numerous industries including wood care, industrial coatings, inks, fibers, composites and construction products. Michelman services its multinational and regional customers with production facilities in the United States, Europe and Singapore, and a worldwide network of highly trained field technical support personnel.

Currently, we have a great opportunity available for a Food Contact Regulatory Analyst to join our global Health Environmental and Regulatory Affairs (HERA) team. This position will be located in our Blue Ash, Ohio Corporate Global Headquarters.

The successful candidate will provide regulatory knowledge and experience required to maintain current US domestic and Asian food contact regulatory requirements. The Analyst will manage compliance activities including, but not limited to: analysis of raw materials and finished goods against pertinent regulations, recordkeeping and regulatory reporting.

The responsibilities of this position will include:

- Manage the US and Asian compliance program in the context of a global product base
- Manage US and Asian food contact information relative to raw materials and finished goods
- Work pro-actively to assess future trends in food contact regulations and communicate impact on Michelman products and customers' markets
- File Food Contact Notifications (FCN) as business dictates
- Understand and share best practices within the chemical industry and other industries and maximize best ideas within Michelman
- Work with legal firms as required to obtain opinions on various food contact related compliance issues
- Act as backup for European food contact requirements
- Manage Kosher compliance program
- Help sales staff to understand food contact regulations so that opinions can be confidently and accurately communicated to customers
- Provide internal training and/or information exchange on HERA food contact pertinent issues to appropriate departments as needed
- Attend appropriate conferences and training as required to perform primary responsibilities

The preferred candidate will have:

- Bachelor of Science (or equivalent) in Food Science, Biology, Chemistry, Environmental Science or other science-related field
- A minimum of five (5) years experience in the food process, beverage, and chemical products industry, with an emphasis on food packaging applications
- Able to make effective presentations to diverse groups
- Able to make interpretations of food contact regulations within the holistic environment of a business
- Proven ability to think independently and handle projects through to completion
- Working knowledge of 21 CFR (FDA food contact regulations) and Asian food contact regulations
- Able to provide regulatory guidance around food contact and kosher compliance to internal and external customers quickly and concisely
- Able to concurrently multi-task in a time sensitive environment
- Able to manage and provide services within the construct of budgetary requirements relative to business units to effectively leverage resources
- Knowledge of global food contact regulations

Michelman is proud of its unique work environment that we have. We pride ourselves in our commitment to our values of integrity, respect and success. Selected candidate will have a rigorous onboarding experience with a continued commitment to technical and professional development. We offer an excellent salary, incentive and benefits package in a progressive, empowered team environment.

To apply

Resume and cover letter with salary history and requirements can be e-mailed to:

Ken Wigton
HR Manager
careers@michem.com

No relocation will be provided – no phone calls please. Michelman does not hire individuals who use tobacco products. All candidates will receive a drug test prior to beginning employment which will include a test for tobacco products.

Michelman is an Equal Opportunity Employer M/F/D/V